ROAD MAKING WITHOUT DEBT.

The 50 Million Dollar Loan Would Mean an Annual Interest of $2,000.000, and an Additional Million for Sinking Fund.

A fact for every voter in Pennsylvania to bear in mind with reference to the pending amendment to the State constitution to authorize the creation of a fifty-million dollar loan for State road building, is that if the loan is created, it will take at least three million dollars a year to pay the interest on the loan and provide for a sinking fund to pay the loan at maturity. On a loan of $50 000 000 to mature in fifty years, one million dollars must be set aside every year as a sinking fund and the interest on the loan at 4 per cent. would amount to two millions more. Those $3,000,000 must come out of current revenues—out of the pockets of the taxpayers, and every voter in Pennsylvania is a taxpayer, directly or indirectly. That is to say, if the loan is created, the Legislature every two years will have to appropriate $6 000,-000 to pay interest and sinking fund, and more if the bonds bear interest at more than 4 per cent. which is declared to be highly probable.

If the three million dollars required to pay interest and sinking fund every year were appropriated for State road making, and added to the two millions that we have been spending on an average every year during the last five years for State road making, it would make five million dollars a year which is as much as could be properly and economically spent and we should be spared burdening ourselves and those who come after us with an enormous debt with the proceeds spent, even if there were no waste or graft, in experimental road making.

The good roads movement has not now and never had a more earnest advocate than the Reporter and it has always held that permanent improvements, to be enjoyed by our posterity as well as ourselves, should be made through loans to be paid off gradually But everybody familiar with the State roads in Pennsylvania built since the first Sproul-Roberts bill was passed, knows that they are not permanent improvements. They are merely experiments, temporary affairs that invariably wear out within two or three years.

Are the people of Pennsylvania going to load themselves with a debt of $50,000,000 to continue experimenting and making short-lived roads, when they know that the amount required to pay interest and sinking fund on the loan, if appropriated for road building, in addition to the sums we have been expending annually for the purpose, would provide all the money that could be providently expended, and leave us and our children free from the burden of a great State debt?

It will be time enough to seriously consider the creation of a debt for road making, when we have a State Highway Department that can and does build roads that will last; roads that are permanent improvements and when we have a State administration that is for the people; one that wants to know and wants the people to know all that is to be learned about good-road making. The present administration does not want the people to know, as Hon. A. Mitchell Palmer has pointed out, or it would have accepted the offer of the United States of $100,-000 to be expended in making rural delivery roads in Pennsylvania, under the supervision of Federal experts as object lessons in road making.

W. C. T. U. Convention.

A county convention of the W. C. T. U. was held in Petrikin Hall, Bellefonte, Thursday and Friday of last week. It was the twenty-eighth annual convention, and the members were enthusiastic. Mrs. A. M. Cleese of Philipsburg was again re-elected as were also all the other officers.

Aside from the local ministers, Mrs. S. C. Wilson, a state organizer, was present and spoke. Her "Echoes from Dry Counties" delighted the audience.

Mrs. Cleese, who has been president of the body for twelve years, and Mrs J. P. Harris, who has been identified with the work since its incipiency in Centre county, have been made life members. A tablet will be placed in Petrikin Hall in their honor, and it will also bear the names of memorial members.

Philipsburg invited the convention to meet with them in 1914, and the offer was accepted.

Barn Burned.

A fire loss due to lightning was sustained by Henry Eisenhuth, in High Valley, the other Sunday afternoon, when his barn was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. No live stock was burned except one hog, but all this season's crops were consumed, making a total loss of not less than $1500, with but $600 insurance in the Annville company.

We beat.

RECORD WHEAT CROP.

Leading Cereals Worth $2,923,700,000 in Market—Corn in Pennsylvania.

Though hot weather and drought have played havoc with the nation's corn crop, causing a loss of 421,000,000 bushels between August 1 and September 1, according to the government's monthly grain report issued, the wheat crop beats all records.

At the current Chicago prices, the value at the market of the three leading grain crops is $2,923, 740,000, estimated value of the wheat raised this year being $678 600,600; corn, $1,786,-760,000, and oats, $458,380,000.

Since the first estimates of the prospects of corn this season were made, there has been a decline in condition amounting to 666,000,000 bushels, and from the prospects indicated by the condition of the crop on September 1, the harvest will be 2,351,000,000 bushels.

An increase in the estimate of the spring wheat crop places that at 243,-000,000 bushels, making the combined crop of winter and spring wheat of the country 754,000,000 bushels, the greatest wheat crop ever produced, exceeding the record crop of 1901 by 6,000,000 bushels. This was due principally to the bumper crop of winter wheat.

The condition of white potatoes deteriorated to such an extent that the August estimates of that crop were reduced by 14,000,000 bushels, to 325,-000 000 bushels.

Condition of corn in Pennsylvania on September 1 was 81 per cent of normal compared with 80 per cent last year and a ten-year average of 83 per cent. Condition of oats at time of harvest in Pennsylvania was 83 compared with 87 in 1912 and a ten-year average of 86 per cent.

Rattlesnake Farm.

Many towns in Pennsylvania boast of fancy chicken farms, Bloomsburg boasts of an ostrich farm, but Mt Union is the only town along the line that can afford a rattlesnake farm. Lawrence N. Crum, a local clothier, is sole owner and proprietor. Mr. Crum started with twelve large rattlesnakes which were caught in the mountains. Last week the number increased to seventeen, five baby rattlers making their appearance.

For some time these rattlesnakes were on exhibition in the store window but now a den has been made in the cellar, where they will be kept during the winter. The snakes' will be raised for their poison, which is extracted every few days by making them bite on a spoon. Mr. Crum says he thinks the proposition will be a paying one, as poison taken from rattlesnakes is very valuable.

LOCALS

Mrs. Mary Rearick advertises her house and lot on Main street for sale. Also an adjoining vacant lot.

Miss Elizabeth Boozer left for Salix, Cambria county, the beginning of this week, where she will again teach a public school. This is her second year to teach in that town.

Messrs. S. A. Wakefield of Scranton and J. L. Ripka of Lock Haven are representing the International Correspondence School with headquarters in Scraton on Grange Park.

The Reformed congregation at State College took possession of the old Presbyterian church property, corner of College and Miles, and all services will in the future be held there.

The Presbytery of Huntingdon will hold its next meeting in the Second Presbyterian church, Altoona, the opening session to be held at 7:30 o'-clock on the evening of Monday, October 6.

A broken mule leg and wrecked drill was the result of a pair of mules hitched to a grain drill running away. The team was the property of M. O. Stover of near Woodward. In their mad rush the team got fast in a fence which no doubt made the outcome so serious.

Miss Sarah Kessler, daughter of Merchant A. A. Kessler of Millheim, is a student in the Indiana Normal School, Indiana, and a few days ago returned to that institution to resume her studies. David Kessler, a son, will enter Pennsylvania State College this week.

Commissioner William H. Noll was in Centre Hall on Monday morning, his mission being to deliver primary election ballots through this portion of the county. He was traveling with his brother, John T. Noll of Pleasant Gap, who owns the car in which the trip was made.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerre Miller and son John Miller of Du Boise are in Centre Hall, having come here on Monday morning. Mr. Miller was formerly the barber in Cenrre Hall, and now both he and his son conduct tonsorial parlors. For a part of the time they are in Centre Hall they will be guests of Mrs. Lizzie Jacobs.

THE GRANGE ENCAMPMENT AND FAIR

Greatest Gathering in a Series of Years Now in Full Swing.

The Grange Encampment and Fair, as the Reporter goes to press on Wednesday noon is in full swing. It is the greatest fair ever held here.

More than one hundred seventy tents have been erected, every one of which is tenanted by from six to ten persons, making an aggregate of not less than one thousand to fifteen hundred persons living under the white canvases. From the top of Nittany Mountain or any prominence Grange Park presents a most delightful scene both by day and night.

Fully ninety per cent. of the tenters were in camp on Saturday evening, although some of them did not reach the grounds until after dark, but before Sunday broke in, every tent was up, furniture and other equipments in position.

The line of exhibits is better than heretofore. A number of new lines of machinery not heretofore exhibited are attracting considerable attention. Exhibitors, local and those from a distance, are becoming more fully convinced that their representation at this fair is to their advantage. The display of products from the farm, orchard and garden is exceptionally fine. Both in quality and numbers the exhibits exceed those of other years.

Sunday the attendance at the Harvest Home services was unusually large. There was the best of order on the Park throughout the entire day, and in the evening the large auditorium was crowded to the doors with those anxious to see the "Life of Moses" on canvas.

Monday morning there was the general scurrying among the campers, exhibitors and sutlers—each one was preparing for the big days to come.

Tuesday the auditorium was given over to the old soldiers, who held their annual reunion.

THE CAMPERS

The names of those who engaged tents are taken from the official list, and are as follows:

WANT A PLAY GROUND.

Borough School Board Considering the Matter of Purchasing a Play Ground Adjoining the Present School Lot.

The Centre Hall school board is seriously considering the advisability of purchasing a play ground for the school children. Under the new School Code school boards are empowered to purchase as much ground as they wish for a play ground, and if the school authorities decide to enlarge the present school ground the purchase will be made under the provisions of the School Code, which code gives school boards power not enjoyed under the old school laws.

The finances of the school board are such at present that the purchase of additional play ground could be made without increasing the tax rate—a very happy condition, indeed.

The Reporter has not sounded the sentiment of the taxpayers on this question, but it believes they will be in sympathy with the movement.

In enumerating the needs of Centre Hall the Reporter included a play ground in the list, because it thinks the children are entitled to some consideration in their play as well as in their education. We are not living in the past, but in the present, and we must act in view of the future.

Walker-Dutrow.

Rev. F. H. Foss on Wednesday evening of last week, at the United Evangelical parsonage, united in marriage Raymond Walker and Miss Sarah Erma Dutrow. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. William Walker, west of Centre Hall, and is an industrious young man of good habits, and the bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde E. Dutrow, east of Centre Hall. The Reporter extends its hearty congratulations.

Literary Society.

The Penn Literary Society of Gregg township high school, Spring Mills, met for organization Friday night at the school building. The following officers were elected: President, Cora M. Corman; vice president, Grace Musser; secretary, Russell Condo; treasurer, John Corman; librarian, Dean Braucht; critic, Prof. W. R. Jones.

A pleasant and beneficial year is anticipated by all and all friends and patrons of the school are invited to attend its meetings.

Rossman-De Saw.

The announcement of the marriage of William S. Rossman and Miss Reba De Saw has been formally made. The bride, who is very popular among her many friends, is a daughter of Nelson W. De Saw, of Philadelphia, a bridge builder for the Philadelphia and Reading Railway Company. The groom is a son of H. F. Rossman, the Spring Mills general merchant, and is also employed by the Reading Company as station agent at Neshaminy Falls, a Philadelphia suburb railroad station. The marriage took place Tuesday evening of this week, Rev. Garrett, a personal friend of the groom, being the officiating minister. The "at home" cards indicate that after October 1st, the couple will receive their many friends at Yardley.

THE AUTO ON THE FARM.

More Machines Now Owned in the Country than in the City.

Two important facts about automobiles and farmers should not be missed by anyone who is interested in either. One is that more machines are now owned in the country than in the city, even in states with a big city population. More automobiles are being sold to farmers this year than to all other classes combined. These statements are not merely opinions or rough estimates but truths that may be learned by any careful investigator. Every assembly of farmers will supply sufficient evidence to satisfy most persons. The automobile itself has furnished all the argument farmers need to convince them of its usefulness in the country.

Today an automobile on the farm excites no more comment than a horse does. The other important fact is that automobiles owned by farmers are paid for, and the butcher, the baker and the grocer are not suffering because the farmer is spending money on joy rides. The greatest market for automobiles in the future lies in the country, where it is most needed, is most useful and most enjoyable. It is purely a luxury to most city people, who must pay for housing it and can not use it in their business. It is more than a luxury to a farmer who houses it free of cost and uses it in his business. The cost of living must always limit investment in such luxuries in the city. The farmer is put in better position to buy through the same influence that increases the cost of living and limits the city man's ability to afford a luxury. Automobiles or anything else will be sold in largest numbers where usefulness justifies investment in them; and that place is on the farms, where there are good business reasons for owning them.

Exchange of Lands.

At a recent meeting of the Reformed and Lutheran cemetery association, the trustees were instructed to enter into an agreement with the Centre Hall school board whereby the driveway from the cemetery to the public road will pass into the hands of the school board, and a strip of land of the same number of square rods on the south side of the school ground will become the property of the cemetery association. This arrangement is of mutual benefit, and while it will give each organization no more ground than they owned heretofore, it will be better located and can be better utilized. The cemetery trustees will be able to lay out a few nice lots for burial purposes on the acquired ground which will aid in bridging them over until more ground can be secured.

The Cemetery Association trustees owe it to the congregations they represent to exhaust every effort to secure additional burying ground, and at once. They had appointed a committee to ascertain whether or not ground could be purchased, and they have reported adversely. One course lies open, and that is to petition the court to condemn. It appears there is no law by which cemetery associations can condemn lands for burial purposes, but conditions locally are such that it appears the court would have jurisdiction if the matter was properly brought before it. Longer delay might complicate matters very much. It is action at an opportune time that brings results.

Cozy Newspaper Home.

Under the above caption the Lewistown Democrat and Sentinel has this to say:

One of the coziest newspaper plants in Central Pennsylvania is that of the Centre Hall Reporter. Editor Smith has erected a new building for his purposes and is deservedly proud of his comfortable, clean, and well arranged and equipped establishment. Mr. Smith several years ago helped to make a success of the Lewistown Democrat and Sentinel, and is now making a very live and readable local newspaper of the Reporter. He also directs a good farm over there and is equally successful as an agriculturist. His expert job printer turns out work that is not surpassed by the more imposing and bigger printing establishments, and The Sentinel is glad to congratulate Mr. Smith on being able to enjoy that comfortable feeling that always comes from doing things well. That's why he always has a warm-hearted smile for his visitors.

Large Enrollment at Penn State.

From information received from Dr. A. Howry Espenshade, registrar of the Pennsylvania State College, the total enrollment this year will exceed 3,000. At the present time the number of students enrolled exceeds that of last year, that is, students in full standing. Inasmuch as all new students must enter college without condition marks the freshman class will be about the same as last year, or six hundred.

TOWN AND COUNTY NEWS.

HAPPENINGS OF LOCAL INTEREST FROM ALL PARTS

It's after the primaries.

Penn State opened yesterday (Wednesday).

No school this week in Centre Hall borough.

Two million trees will be planted on the national forests in Utah, Nevada, and southern Idaho during 1914.

Prof. Harry Dodson has leased the Geiss property from John C. Rossman from October 1st until April 1st of 1915.

The September term of court opens on Monday. The list of jurors—grand and traverse—is reprinted in this issue.

Mrs. James W. Boal, who during the past few years lived in Bellefonte, is now making her home with her son, Rev. J. Hamill Boal.

If Bellefonte wants to do something for its benefit, let it induce the transportation company to come this way. The motor bus would make us much nearer neighbors.

Mrs. Samuel Gingerich is recovering from effects of iodine used to reduce a goiter. The upper portion of her body on one side, including the arm, became partially paralyzed.

Mrs. W. S. Slick, accompanied by her daughter Elsie and son William, are on a visit to relatives and friends in Altoona, Johnstown and other points. They will return within the next two weeks.

The United Evangelical parsonage was very much improved on the interior, and now the pastor and family have decidedly better quarters in which to live. One of the improvements was to install a bath room.

The latter part of last week H. G. Strohmeier placed a handsome monument in the Tusseyville cemetery over the grave of the late Samuel J. Houseman. The material is Missouri granite, the workmanship fine, and the design pleasing.

Coleman K. Sober, the owner and proprietor of the large Paragon chestnut farm in Irish Valley, is preparing to harvest the large crop of chestnuts. There will probably be three thousand bushels to be harvested this year and nearly all of them have been sold.

An Oxweld acetylene lighting plant is being installed in the Bartholomew building. Every room, both in the private and business portions, will be equipped with lights having electric ignition. The plant was purchased from "Dick" Powell, of Laurelton, who is installing it.

A short time ago Milton H. Snyder wrote to his mother, Mrs. Mary Snyder at Centre Hall, that on Friday previous to the Grange Encampment he and his family would come here to visit her. The mother looked forward to this time with pleasure, but when the appointed day came her son was brought to her door a corpse instead of one in middle life, hale and hearty.

The Keystone Gazette devotes over a column in its last issue in an argument against the loose manner in which some of the Bellefonte hotels are conducted with respect to the sale of intoxicant liquors. The Gazette claims that unless landlords are more careful to whom they sell, and how heavy they load their customers, popular opinion against the traffic will become so strong that licenses will be refused by the court.

Rev. Bromer, pastor of the Jeannette Reformed church, accompanied Mrs. Milton H. Snyder and her daughters to Centre Hall on Friday, and here assisted in conducting the services at the burial of Mrs. Snyder's husband. James I. Snyder, of Freeport, Illinois, a brother of the deceased, also came east and accompanied the remains to their last resting place. Mrs. Snyder has not decided whether she will make Jeannette her future home, or remain at Centre Hall.

The fallacy of giving away valuable franchises is forcibly illustrated by what happened a few days ago in Chicago. Twenty years ago Chicago gave absolutely free to a bunch of politicians an electric light franchise. The company did a very small business, but it had branching power to every portion of the great western metropolis, and the owners who paid nothing to the city for it, sold it for $5,000,000.

A meeting of the executive committee of the Centre County Sunday School Association was held in Bellefonte on Friday. The work in the county was carefully gone over, and it was found that there is danger of the county losing its front line position which it has held for two years. The one weak point is the number of teacher training classes. Only strong co-operation on the part of workers in the various schools will save Centre county. Miss Robison, a state field worker, attended the meeting.

MISS WILSON IN PASTORAL PLAY

President's Youngest Daughter Takes Star Role.

IN INTEREST OF THE BIRDS.

The President and Mrs. Wilson Witness the Remarkable Production Given In a Grove Of Pine Trees At Meriden, N. H.

Meriden, N. H.—President Wilson sat in a grove of pine trees and saw his youngest daughter, Miss Eleanor, play the star role in a pastoral masque symbolizing the protest of the naturalist against the slaughter of birds for millinery purposes.

With a dramatic skill which surprised her closest friends, as it was her first attempt, Miss Wilson voiced in soft and appealing tones the spirit of the bird lover exhorting the hunter to forsake his rifle.

The sharp crack of a gun followed by the sudden fall of "Ornis, the bird spirit," Miss Wilson's role, marked the climax of the piece. Wounded and sobbing, "Ornis" is consoled by the fauns, poet, Dryad and naturalist, who in the end dissaude the repentant plume hunter and make of him a bird lover. The President's daughter spoke her lines with careful expression and was enthusiastically applauded.

The setting was both unique and picturesque. Those in the audience, composed entirely of the artists, poets, playwrights and literary folk from Cornish and the surrounding hills, were costumed in various colored gowns and coats and sat on rough wooden benches fixed on the slope of a hill, at the foot of which was the stage. This was marked by logs, behind which colored footlights threw a shadowy light on the encircling pines. Bird whistles and the incidental strains of an orchestra concealed in the trees and an occasional dance by the players, lightened the piece, which was written by Percy MacKaye.

As a prelude to the performance, Miss Margaret Wilson, oldest daughter of the President, sang The Hermit Thrush. At the conclusion of the play Herbert Adams presented on behalf of the artists and members of the Meriden Bird Club, to Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, patron of the performance, a parchment scroll in dedication of the Bird Sanctuary, where the play was given.

Besides the President and Mrs. Wilson, the presidential party consisted of Miss Jessie Wilson, second daughter, and her fiance, Francis B. Sayre, and several house guests.

Mrs. Herbert Adams, wife of the artist, slipped on rough ground and broke her left leg and dislocated an ankle just before the performance began. She was taken to her home and cared for by a physician.

COURSE IN STOREKEEPING.

Subjects To Be Taught In Kansas Agriculture College.

Topeka, Kan.—A course in the management of a country store is to be inaugurated in one of the state educational institutions, probably the Kansas State Agricultural College, at Manhattan, according to announcement from the Administration Board of State institutions. Among the subjects proposed for the new course are: Writing advertising for country weeklies. Decorating store windows. Attractive interior display of goods. Handling customers. Pushing certain lines of goods. Points on buying.

ASSAILS SECRET CAUCUS.

Rep. Anderson Follows Resignation With Hot Resolution.

Washington, D. C.—Representative Anderson, Republican, of Minnesota, followed up his sensational resignation from the Ways and Means Committee by introducing a resolution to have a committee of nine investigate and refrom the legislature practices of the House. He announced his action was the beginning of a campaign against the secret caucus and secret commitee work.

A SLEEPER AWAKENS.

Tennesseean Was Dead To the World Since August 3.

San Jose, Cal.—Wright Keebel, of Tennesee, who fell asleep when he arrived on a visit to his uncle, R. P. Keebel, of this city, on August 3, and had slept ever since, woke Friday apparently sound and well. Several physicians had worked over him without results, except occasionally he was partly aroused only to drop immediately back into sound sleep.

DIDN'T LIKE THE DOCTOR.

500 Miners Go On Stroke At Mucklow, W. Va.

Charleston, W. Va.—Alleging that the Paint Creek Collieries Company had failed in its promise to dismiss a company doctor employed during the recent labor troubles, 500 miners employed in the mines in and around Mucklow struck Friday. The company is said to have signed the union scale a few weeks ago.

MAYOR GAYNOR DIES AT SEA

Sitting in Deck Chair on Baltic When End Came.

SON THINKS HIM ASLEEP.

Rose From Farmer Boy To Head Of Largest American City. Body Being Brought Home.

New York.—William J. Gaynor, Mayor of New York city, voyaging over sea on the steamer Baltic in the hope of regaining his strength to enter the three-cornered municipal campaign as a candidate for re-election, died suddenly on the Baltic as the steamer was within a few hundred miles of the Irish coast.

Dispatches from his son, Rufus W. Gaynor, who was his father's only traveling companion, gave details which showed that the end had come with shocking suddenness.

Heart Weak For Years.

That the Mayor's heart had been in a weakened condition for years was the statement of physicians who treated him at the time he was shot in the neck and almost done to death by an insane discharged employe of the city in August, 1910. They would not declare their belief that the wound inflicted by the assassin's bullet had let directly to the end today, but did affirm that his general resistance had been lessened thereby to a great extent.

Plans for a public funeral to be held probably on Monday, September 22, will be made by the Board of Estimate.

The death of Mayor Gaynor automatically transferred the office of Mayor to Col. Adolph L. Kline, a Republican, president of the Board of Aldermen.

WILSON EXPRESSES REGRET.

Bryan Says Gaynor Had a Genius For Public Life.

Washington.—President Wilson expressed his personal regret at the death of Mayor Gaynor to callers, but issued no formal statement.

"Mayor Gaynor was a strong man, with a genius for public life," said Secretary Bryan on learning of the Mayor's death. "He was strong not only in tne sense that he showed ability in the discussion of public questions, but his sympathies were broad and his heart was enlisted in reform. His place will be hard to fill. I am distressed to learn of his death."

GIVEN OVATION IN THEATRE.

President Wilson Attends Vaudeville Performance.

Washington. — President Wilson went to a vaudeville performance for the first time since he came to Washington. A regular patron of the dramatic stock company plays during the past summer, he returned to the lighter side of the stage for his evening's diversion. He was given an enthusiastic ovation as he took his seat in a box with Secretary Tumulty and Dr. Cary T. Grayson, U. S. N., his physician.

A FATAL EXPLOSION.

One Killed and Five Injured On Torpedo-Boat Craven.

Savannah, Ga.—One man was killed and five injured by an explosion on the United States torpedo boat Craven at sea. The Craven reached Fort Screven, Tybee Island, in tow of the tug Cynthia. The dead and wounded were removed to the Fort Screven Hospital.

MORE DREADNOUGHTS.

Congress Will Be Asked For Two Or Thre Of the Big Fighting Ships.

Washington. — Two and perhaps three dreadnoughts will be asked of Congress by Secretary of Navy Daniels. The Secretary was in conference with Chairman Padgett of the House Naval Affairs Committee over the Navy building program for next year.

A Remarkable Address by Sir Oliver Lodge.

EVOLUTION PROGRESS REAL.

"Personality Persists Beyond Bodily Death"—"We May Not Know Our Destiny, But We Must Have a Destiny."

Birmingham, England. — Published forecasts of the address of Sir Oliver Lodge, president of the British Association for the Advancement of Science, intimating that he would make statements of a startling character concerning immortality and the proof of life after death, although publicly denied by Sir Oliver himself, caused his address at the meeting of the association to be anticipated with lively interest and heard with profound attention.

His subjject was Continuity, and, summarized in his own words, Sir Oliver's argument was:

"A marked feature of the present scientific era is the discovery of, and interest in, various kinds of atomism, so that continuity seems in danger of being lost sight of.

"Another tendency is toward comprehensive negative generalizations from a limited point of view.

"Another is to take refuge in rather vague forms of statement, and to shrink from closer examination of the puzzling and the obscure.

"Another is to deny the existence of anything which makes no appeal to organs of sense and no ready response to laboratory experiment.

Against these tendencies the author contends. He urges a belief in ultimate continuity as essential to science; he regards scientific concentration as an inadequate basis for philosophic generalization; he believes that obscure phenomena may be expressed simply if properly faced, and he points out that the non-appearance of anything perfectly uniform and omnipresent is only what should be expected, and is no argument against its real substantial existence.

Personality Beyond Death.

In conclusion Sir Oliver touched upon the question of life after death. He declared his conviction that "occurrences now regarded as occult can be examined and reduced to order by the methods of science carefully and persistently applied," and that "already the facts so examined have convinced me that memory and affection are not limited to that association with matter by which alone they can manifest themselves here and now, and that personality persists beyond bodily death."

BIG AIRSHIP WRECKED.

Fifteen Men Killed When New Zeppelin Falls Into the Sea.

Berlin. — Consternation reigns in Germany at the news that the splendid new German Naval Zeppelin LI, the pride of the German navy, which has only recently been completed, was wrecked. While flying from the mainland toward the Island of Heligoland in a gale, she fell into the sea, and fifteen officers and men on board lost their lives, including Captain Metzing, commander of the Marine Airship Division, Captain Hanne, commander of the wrecked airship, Baron von Maltzahn, and other officers of high rank. It is understood that the naval commission appointed to supervise the trials was on board.

INVASION OF CHINA STARTED.

Armed Force Landed At Nanking. Three Cruisers At Port.

London.—A Japanese armed force was landed at Nanking, China, according to a special dispatch from Shanghai. Three Japanese cruisers and a gunboat arrived at the Chinese river port and 100 Japanese marines and several quick-firing guns were sent ashore and are now quartered at the Japanese consulate.

THAW HELD IN NEW HAMPSHIRE

His Freedom Lasts Only Three Hours After Deportation.

ARREST FOLLOWS WILD RIDE

He Engages Lawyers and Begins To Map Out Campaign To Prevent His Return To Matteawan.

Colebrook, N. H.—Harry Kendall Thaw, fugitive from Matteawan, slept on American soil Wednesday night, barricaded in a hotel room here, after one of the most exciting days in his career.

Thrust unexpectedly over the Canadian border despite the writ of habeas corpus demanding his production before the King's Bench in Montreal next week he was for three hours a free man, and during that time drove madly in an automobile for 50 futile miles through the hills of Vermont and New Hampshire. Near noon he ran into the arms of a New Hampshire Sheriff and was brought to Colebrook, where he retained counsel to resist extradition.

As a matter of form Thaw was "arrested" in his room shortly after 10 o'clock on a complaint sworn to by Sheriff Drew, based on information that Justice Morschauser, in Duchess county, New York, has issued a blanket warrant charging Thaw and those who assisted him in his escape from Matteawan with conspiracy.

Thaw probably will be arraigned before a police magistrate on the conspiracy complaint. The ordinary procedure would be to remand him for several days pending a request from New York on Governor Samuel D. Felker for Thaw's extradition.

Before the Governor acts on this he will, if precedent is followed, call for the Attorney-General's report.

William Travers Jerome, who rushed hither on a special train, will assume charge of the case for New York State, seeking to have Thaw, as a ward of the State, returned to Matteawan.

150 COTTAGES BURNED.

Six Hotels At Salisbury Beach, Mass., Are Also Destroyed By Fire.

Salisbury Beach, Mass.—This summer resort was swept by fire. A church, six hotels and 150 cottages were destroyed. Two hundred thousand dollars worth of property was wiped out within an area three-quarters of a mile long and 200 yards wide. The Cushing Hotel and annex, the Atlantic House, Castle Mona, Hotel Leighton, the Newark Hotel, Hotel Comet, the Essex block, a business building, the postoffice building and several beach attractions were destroyed.

AID FOR FIRE SUFFERERS.

Generous Money Subscriptions Sent To Hot Springs, Ark.

Hot Springs, Ark.—Generous money subscriptions and supplies are reaching Hot Springs for the relief of persons who were rendered homeless by the fire. The task of caring for the homeless is well in hand. Rebuilding in the fire-swept district is to begin immediately. Governor Hayes is expected to return here to hear requests of citizens for a special session of the legislature to authorize the commission form of government for Hot Springs.

KING GEORGE TO BE SPONSOR.

Will Act In That Capacity For Roxburghe Heir.

London.—King George, it was announced, will act as sponsor for the heir of the Roxburghe Dukedom, whose mother was Miss May Goelet, of New York. The Duke of Roxburghe was aide-de-camp to King George in 1901 when, as the Duke of Cornwall and York his Majesty made a colonial tour on board the steamer Ophir.

THE TARIFF BILL PASSES SENATE

Fight for People and Free Business Won, Says Wilson.

NOW GOES TO A CONFERENCE

Votes Of the Two Progressives Came As a Surprise and Evoked Democratic Applause.

Washington.—The Democratic tariff revision bill passed the Senate at 5.43 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, amid a burst of applause that swept down from crowded galleries and found its echo on the crowded floor of the Senate. Its passage was attended with surprises in the final moments of the voting, when Senator La Follette, Republican, cast his vote with the Democrats, and was joined a few moments later by Senator Poindexter, Progressive.

The Democrats had counted throughout the long tariff fight upon losing the votes of Senators, Ramsdell and Thornton, of Louisiana, Democrats, who voted against the bill because it would put sugar on the free list. Until the names of Senators La Follette and Poindexter were actually called, however, no one knew definitely the stand they would take, and their votes were greeted with enthusiastic applause.

Senator Simmons, chairman of the Finance Committee, who had piloted the bill through the Finance Committee, the Democratic caucus and the Senate, predicted that its passage would bring immediate stimulus to the business of the country.

To Conference Committee.

As it passed the Senate, the tariff bill represents an average reduction of more than four per cent. from the rates of the original bill that passed the House, and nearly 28 per cent. from the rates of existing law. In many important particulars the Senate has changed the bill that passed the House, and a conference committee of the two Houses will begin work Wednesday or Thursday to adjust these differences. Leaders of both houses predict that the conference will consume less than two weeks' time.

President Wilson Praises Congress.

President Wilson issued the following statement concerning the passage of the Tariff bill by the Senate:

"A fight for the people and for free business which has lasted a long generation through has at last been won, handsomely and completely.

"A leadership and a steadfastness in counsel has been shown in both houses of which the Democratic party has reason to be very proud. There has been no weakness or confusion or drawing back, but a statesmanlike directness and command of circumstances.

"I am happy to have been connected with the government of the nation at a time when such things could happen, and to have worked in association with men who could do them.

"There is every reason to believe that currency reform will be carried through with equal energy, directness, and loyalty to the general interest. When that is done this first session of the Sixty-third Congress will have passed into history with an unrivaled distinction.

"I want to express my special admiration for the devoted, intelligent and untiring work of Mr. Underwood and Mr. Simmons and the committees associated with them."

WOMAN KILLED UNDER AUTO.

Her Husband, Alex. Henry, Injured When Car Upset.

Pocomoke City, Md.—Mrs. Rachel Henry, 70 years old, of New Church, Va., was killed and her husband Alexander Henry, 73 years old, injured about one-half mile from their home when an automobile in which they were riding turned turtle, pinning them beneath it. Mr. Henry had recently bought the car and was just learning to run it. He lost control of the machine, which ran up an embankment and upset.

ENGAGE IN FATAL DUEL.

Wife Kills Husband and Is Herself Fatally Wounded.

Sedalia, Mo.—William Evans, a restaurant keeper 35 years old, was killed and his wife fatally wounded in a revolver fight between them in front of a rooming-house here. The shooting is ascribed to jealousy on the part of Mrs. Evans. Witnesses say she called her husband from the house and fired five shots at him. He fired twice before he fell dead.

TWENTY ARE INJURED.

Pittsburgh Street Car Crashes Into a Trolley Pole.

Pittsburgh.—Twenty persons were injured when a street car left the track at the corner of Forbes and Besler streets, crashing into a trolley pole at the side of a hill. Most of those who were hurt were able to go to their homes without assistance. Miss Margaret Roberts, aged 35, however, it is thought, was seriously injured.

SYNOPSIS.

Mrs. Varney, wife of a Confederate general, has lost one son and another is dying from wounds. She reluctantly gives her consent for Wilfred, the youngest, to join the army if his father consents. The federals are making their last assault in an effort to capture Richmond. Edith Varney secures from President Davis a commission for Capt. Thorne, who is just recovering from wounds, as chief of the telegraph at Richmond. Capt. Thorne tells Edith he has been ordered away. She declares he must not go and tells him of the commission from the president. He is strangely agitated and declares he cannot accept. Thorne decides to escape while Edith leaves the room to get the commission, but is prevented by the arrival of Caroline Mitford, Wilfred's sweetheart. Mr. Arrelsford of the Confederate secret service, a rejected suitor of Edith's, detects Jonas, Mrs. Varney's butler, carrying a note from a prisoner in Libby prison. Arrelsford suspects it is intended for Thorne. The note reads: "Attack tonight. Plan 3. Use Telegraph." Arrelsford declares Thorne is Lewis Dumont of the Federal secret service, and that his brother Henry is a prisoner in Libby. Edith refuses to believe and suggests that Thorne be confronted with the prisoner as a test. An order comes from General Varney for Wilfred to report to the front at once. Edith is forced to carry out her part in the test of Thorne. The prisoner is thrust into the room alone with Thorne recognizes him as his elder brother, Henry Dumont. They put up a fake fight and Henry accidentally kills himself. Caroline goes to the war department telegraph office to send a message to Wilfred.

CHAPTER XI.

Mr. Arrelsford Again Interposes.

Nobody had any time to devote to Miss Mitford just then, for a perfect rain of messages came and went as she slowly composed her own dispatch. Messengers constantly came in while others went out. The lines were evidently busy that night. Finally there came a pause in the dispatches coming and going, and Foray remembering her, looked over toward the other end of the table where she sat.

"Is that message of yours ready yet, Miss Mitford?" he asked.

"Yes," said Caroline, rising and folding it. "Of course you have got to take it."

"Certainly," returned the operator smiling. "If it's to be sent, I have to send it."

"Well, here it is then," said the girl, extending the folded paper which Lieutenant Foray took and unceremoniously opened.

"Oh!" exclaimed Caroline, quickly snatching the paper from his hand. "I didn't tell you you could read it."

Foray stared at her in amazement.

"What do you want me to do with it?"

"I want you 'o send it."

"Well, how am I going to send it if I don't read it?"

"Do you mean to say that—" began

"I Didn't Tell You You Could Read It."

the girl, who had evidently forgotten—if she had ever known—how telegrams were sent.

"I mean to say that I have got to spell out every word on the key. Didn't you know that?"

"Oh, I did, of course—I—but I had forgotten," said Caroline, dismayed by this unexpected development.

"Is there any harm in my reading the message that I have to send?"

"Why I wouldn't have you see it for the world! My gracious!"

"Is it as bad as that, Miss Mitford?" he said laughing.

"Bad! It isn't bad at all, but I wouldn't have it get all over town for anything."

"It will never get out of this office, Miss Mitford," returned Foray composedly. "We are not allowed to mention anything that goes on in here."

"You wouldn't mention it?"

"Certainly not. All sorts of private messages go through here, and—"

"Do they?"

"Every day. Now if that telegram is important—"

"Important, well I should think it was. It is the most important—"

"Then I reckon you had better trust it to me," said Lieutenant Foray.

"Yes," said Caroline, blushing a vivid crimson, "I reckon I had."

She handed him the telegram. He opened it, glanced at it, bit his lips to control his emotion, and then his hands reached for the key.

"Oh, stop!" cried Caroline.

Foray looked at her, his eyes full of amusement, his whole body shaking with suppressed laughter, which she was too wrought up to perceive.

"Wait till—I—I don't want to be here while you spell out every word—I couldn't stand that."

Caroline had evidently forgotten that the spelling would be in the Morse code, and that it would be about as intelligible to her as Sanskrit. The lieutenant humored her, and waited while Caroline turned toward the door and summoned Martha to her. She did not leave the room, however, for her way was barred by a young private in a gray uniform. The newcomer looked hastily at her and the old negress, stopped by them, and asked them very respectfully to wait a moment. He then approached Foray, who impatiently waited until he could send the message. He saluted him and handed him a written order, and then crossed to the other side of the room. A glance put Foray in possession of the contents of this order. He rose to his feet and approached Caroline still standing by the door.

"Miss Mitford," he said.

"Yes."

"I don't understand this, but here is an order that has just come from the secret service department directing me to hold up any dispatch you may try to send."

"Hold back my telegram?"

"Yes, Miss Mitford," and Foray looked very embarrassed as he stared again at the order and then from the young girl to the orderly, "and that isn't the worst of it."

"What else is there?" asked the girl, her eyes big with apprehension.

"Why, this man has orders to take back your message with him to the secret service office."

"Take back my message!" cried Caroline.

"There must be some mistake," answered Foray, "but that's what the order says."

"To whom does it say to take it back?" asked the girl, growing more and more indignant.

"To a Mr. Arrelsford."

"Do you mean to tell me that that order is for that man to take my dispatch back to Mr. Arrelsford?"

"Yes, Miss Mitford," returned Lieutenant Foray.

"And does it say anything in there about what I am going to do in the meantime?" asked the girl indignantly.

"Nothing."

"Well, that is too bad," returned Caroline ominously.

"I am sorry this has occurred, Miss Mitford," said the lieutenant earnestly, "but the orders are signed by the head of the secret service department, and you will see that I have no choice—"

"Don't worry about it, Lieutenant Foray," said Caroline calmly, "there is no need of your feeling sorry, because it hasn't occurred, beside that, it is not going to occur. When it does, you can go around being sorry all you like. Have you the faintest idea that I am going to let him take my telegram away with him and show it to the man? Do you suppose—"

She was too indignant to finish her sentence and old Martha valiantly entered the fray.

"No, suh," she cried, in her deepest and most indignant voice. "You all ain't gwine to do it, you kin be right suah you ain't."

"But what can I do?" persisted Foray, greatly distressed.

"You can hand it back to me, that's what you can do."

"Yes, suh, dat's de vehy best thing you kin do," said old Martha stoutly, "an' de soonah you do it de quickah it'll be done—Ah kin tell you dat right now, suh."

"But this man has come here with orders for me to—" began Foray, endeavoring to explain.

He realized that there was some mistake somewhere. The girl's message had nothing whatever to do with military matters, and he quite understood that she would not want this communication read by every Tom, Dick or Harry in the secret service department. Besides all this, as she stood before him, her face flushed with emotion, she was a sufficiently pleading figure to make him most willing to help her. In addition, the portly figure of old Martha, whose cheeks doubtless would have been flushed with the same feeling had they not been black, were more than disconcerting.

"This man," said Caroline, shaking her finger at helpless Private Eddinger, who also found his position most unpleasant, "can go straight back where he came from and report to Mr. Arrelsford that he could not carry out his orders. That's what he can do."

Martha, now thoroughly aroused to a sense of the role she was to play, turned and confronted the abashed private.

"Jes' let him try to tek it. Let him tek it if he wants it so pow'ful bad! Jes' let de othah one dare gib it to him—an' den see him try an' git out thu dis yeah do' wid it! Ah wants to see him go by," she said. "Ah'm jes' waitin' fur de sight ob him gittin' pas' dis do'. Dat's what Ah's waitin' fo'. Ah'd lak to know what dey s'pose it was Ah comed around yeah fo' anyway—dese men wid dese ordahs afussin' an'—"

"Miss Mitford," said Foray earnestly, "if I were to give this dispatch back to you it would get me in a heap of trouble."

"What kind of trouble?" asked Caroline dubiously.

"I might be put in prison, I might be shot."

"Do you mean that they would—"

"Sure to do one thing or another."

"Just for giving it back to me when it is my message."

"Just for that."

"Then you will have to keep it, I suppose," said Caroline faltering."

"Thank you, Miss Mitford."

"Very well," said Caroline, "it is understood. You don't give it back to me, and you can't give it back to him, so nobody's disobeying any orders at all. And that's the way it stands. I reckon I can stay as long as he can. She stepped to a nearby chair and sat down. "I haven't very much to do and probably he has."

"But, Miss Mitford—" began Foray.

"There isn't any good talking any longer. If you have got any telegraphing to do you had better do it. I won't disturb you. But don't you give it to him."

Foray stared at her helplessly. What might have resulted it is impossible to say, for there entered at that opportune moment Mr. Arrelsford himself, relieving Mr. Foray of the further conduct of the intricate case. His glance took in all the occupants of the room. It was to his own messenger that he first addressed himself.

"Eddinger!"

"Yes, Mr. Arrelsford."

"Didn't you get here in time?"

"Yes, sir."

"Then why—"

"I beg your pardon," said Foray, "are you Mr. Arrelsford of the secret service department?"

"Yes. Are you holding back a dispatch?"

"Yes, sir."

"Why didn't Eddinger bring it to me?"

"Well, you see—" began Foray, hesitating, "Miss Mitford—"

Arrelsford instantly comprehended.

"Eddinger," he said.

"Yes, sir."

"Report back to Corporal Matson and tell him to send a surgeon to the prisoner who was wounded at General Varney's house, if he isn't dead by this time. Now let me see that dispatch," he continued, as the orderly saluted and ran rapidly from the room.

But again Miss Mitford interposed. She stepped quickly between Arrelsford and Foray, both of whom fell back from her.

"I expect," she said impudently, "that you think you are going to get my telegram and read it?"

"I certainly intend to do so," was the curt answer.

"Well, there's a great disappointment looming up in front of you," returned Caroline defiantly.

"So!" said Arrelsford, with growing suspicion. "You have been trying to send out something that you don't want us to see."

"What if I have, sir?"

"Just this," said Arrelsford determinedly. "You won't send it out and I will see it. This is a case—"

"This is a case where nobody is going to read my private writing," persisted Caroline.

The young girl confronted him with blazing eyes and a mien like a small fury. Arrelsford looked at her with ill-concealed yet somewhat vexatious amusement.

"Lieutenant Foray, you have an order to give me that dispatch. Bring it to me at once," he said.

Although it was quite evident that Foray greatly disliked the role he was compelled to play, his orders were plain, and he had no option. He stepped slowly toward the secret service agent, only to be confronted by old Martha, who again interrupted.

"Dat Leftenant kin stay jes whah he is," said the old negress defiantly.

A struggle with her would have been an unseemly spectacle indeed, thought both men.

"Is that Miss Mitford's dispatch you have in your hand?" asked Arrelsford.

"Yes, sir."

"Since you can't hand it to me, read it."

Caroline turned to him with a gasp of horror. Martha gave way, and Foray stood surprised.

"Read it out! Don't you hear me?" repeated Arrelsford peremptorily.

"I don't dare to do such a thing," cried Caroline, "you have no right to read a private telegram."

"No, suh! He ain't got no business to read her lettahs, none whatsomebah!" urged Martha.

"Silence!" roared Arrelsford, his patience at an end. "If either of you interfere any further with the business of this office I will have you both put under arrest. Read that dispatch instantly, Lieutenant Foray."

The game was up, so far as the women were concerned. Caroline's head sank on Martha's shoulder and she sobbed passionately, while Lieutenant Foray read the following astonishing and incriminating message.

"Jes' Let Him Try to Tek It."

"'Forgive me, Wilfred, darling, please forgive me and I will help you all I can.'"

It was harmless, as harmless as it was foolish, that message, but it evidently impressed Mr. Arrelsford as containing some deep, some hidden, some sinister meaning.

"That dispatch can't go," he said shortly.

"That dispatch can go," said Caroline, stopping her sobbing as suddenly as she had begun. "And that dispatch will go. I know some one whose orders even you are bound to respect, and some one who will come here with me and see that you do it."

"It may be," answered Arrelsford composedly. "I have a good and sufficient reason—"

"Then you will have to show him, I can tell you that, Mr. Arrelsford."

"I shall be glad to give my reason to my superiors, Miss Mitford, not to you."

"Then you will have to go around giving them to every bodyin Richmond, Mr. Arrelsford," said the girl, as she swept petulantly through the door, followed by old Martha, both of whom were very much disturbed by what had occurred.

Perfection in Shipbuilding.

The giant liner Imperator, which is rapidly approaching completion at Hamburg, was recently subjected to rigid tests to determine the strength of her bulkheads, which proved that the vessel would withstand the experience which befell the Titanic. New and efficient mechanism is being installed for launching lifeboats under unfavorable conditions. Anti-rolling tanks in the vessel will remove the danger of the lifeboats being crushed against the sides of the ship while being lowered. One of the lifeboats is equipped with a wireless telegraph system having a range of 200 miles, the antennae being a telescopic mast. This lifeboat will serve as the flagship of the fleet of life boats in case of a wreck.

Proud of Them.

We can no longer think, with Pericles, that good report for a woman means a minimum of any kind of report about her, whether for good, or evil, nor with Dr. Johnson that when she speaks in public she is "like a pig standing on its hind legs; it is not that she does it well, but you are surprised she can do it at all." We are as proud of our famous women as we are of our famous men, and some of the very best speakers in the world today are women.—University Magazine.

Man She Wanted.

"Will you marry me?" he asked.

She paused for a moment before she replied. Then she said:

"Listen carefully, please. You are a man of ordinary abilities and perfectly conventional ideas. You haven't the slightest conception of the new world movement which is now taking place. You are intensely blind to all of its radicalism, intensely unoriginal, satisfied to be an intellectual nonentity, engrossed in that horrible, stagnating thing known as business, and a mental slave to the opinions put forth by your daily paper. I am a true feminist, an individual searcher, bound by no ties, seeking the highest self-expression in advance art forms and acknowledging no preconceived standards. Will I marry you? Of course I will. You're just the man I want."—Life.

Efficiency.

The modern method of accomplishing two things at once in the performance of a man's household duties was recently illustrated by a North Cambridge young man. A Suggestion for Digestion

Many persons suffer more or less from headache, dizziness, biliousness, and symptoms common to indigestion. There are various causes, such as over-starchy or greasy foods, improper mastication, or bad cooking.

Grape-Nuts

Solves the digestion problem.

This food, made from prime whole wheat and barley, is perfectly baked until the starch cells are either converted into easily digested grape sugar, or thoroughly broken down for quick digestion—generally in about one hour.

There is no animal fat in Grape-Nuts.

The crisp granules of Grape-Nuts come to your table ready-to-eat direct from package, invite thorough mastication and have a peculiarly sweet, nut-like flavor.

Grape-Nuts, containing all the rich elements of wheat and barley, including the vital mineral salts, is a perfectly balanced food for building muscle, bone, brain and nerve.

Grape-Nuts is probably the longest baked, the best balanced, and the most easily digested of all cereal foods. Wonderfully appetizing with cream and sugar.

GIVING THE PLUG HIS DUE

Steadygoing, Sensible Qualities Are Not Always Accorded the Recognition That They Deserve.

Don't make fun of the plug. He may be slow and awkward and never get to the stable until dark, but he is the fellow who in the end will bring home the coin, says a Kansas City writer. The plug horse that pulls the lister all day in the field puts more money in the bank for the honest farmer than the race horse that goes out and turns a half in 0:50 flat and then loafs for two weeks waiting for another race to be matched. The old plug goes out in sunshine and storm and pulls in a few dollars every week, but the race horse waits for the day when the track is good and then generally loses more than he wins. The steady old plug keeps the wolf from the door, while the race horse causes the mortgage to be foreclosed.

Just so with the man. Pin your faith to the plug who keeps eternally at it; the fellow who gets up every morning and does so much and is ready to do it again next day. He lays up more shining dollars in the bank than the swift sport who lies around all summer waiting for luck to come along and turn a stream of silver into his pocket. One cackling Plymouth Rock hen is worth a dozen screaming eagles when it comes to paying off the mortgage. The plug is the fellow who steadies the ship and acts as ballast when the boat begins to rock. The plug is the fellow who lives contentedly and long and when he passes away the local paper says, "He leaves his family in comfortable circumstances."

Safety Devices.

Redd—I understand the French government has offered a prize of $80,000 for a device that will make aeroplanes safe.

Greene—Why, don't they at the same time offer a prize for a device that will make falling out of a tenth-story window safe?

LOCALS.

The primary election held on Tuesday will cost the State between $400 000 and $500,000 A neat sum indeed

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Krape are moving from Bellevue, Ohio, to Centre Hall and will occupy the home vacated by Prof. and Mrs. V. W. Godshall.

Miss Mary Hart of Altoona is the guest of Miss Besse Breon, in Centre Hall. The two are chums, and are greatly enjoying each other's company.

Miss Ruth Krise of Johnstown came to Centre Hall Monday afternoon, and is a guest at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Krise.

Dr. and Mrs. William E. Park came to Centre Hall from their home at New Milford in a machine, and are at the home of Mrs. Park's father, Capt. G. M. Boal.

To avoid the dust and aid in making the newly built street more durable, a number of citizens purchased road oil and had it applied on several sections. The results are satisfactory.

The Philadelphia North American has headquarters on Grange Park, and the paper's interests are being diligently looked after by James S. Lawson and Thomas D. Andrews.

Merchant and Mrs. W. A. Odenkirk were guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Cook, at Glen Iron, last week. They formerly lived in that place where Mr Odenkirk was the station agent on the L. and T.

In order to give the employes in this office an opportunity to attend the Grange Encampment and Fair, this issue is printed earlier than usually This accounts for lack of primary election news.

Farmers are busy cutting off corn. The crop in some sections of Penns Valley was frosted, in others no damage was done. The drought through August lessened the yield of corn on many farms.

Martin Lovette of Phoenixville, a room and classmate of Miss Sarah Neff, was the latter's guest for a day on her way to Penn State. The two are members of the sophomore class, and went to State College on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Benner Shirk of Seymour, Missouri, are at the Brisbin home in Centre Hall. Before coming here they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Robertson in Hartford, Connecticut, and accompanied them to this place.

Messrs. William and George Swartz, sons of Merchant and Mrs. Charles Swartz of Tusseyville on Tuesday went to Selinsgrove where they became students in the Susquehanna University. Both these young men will prepare to enter the Lutheran ministry.

A bunch of election officers in Northumberland county missed their guess when they calculated the calibre of the court, and resigned thinking that by so doing the court would reappoint them and in that way they would get the benefit of the increased salary provided for in a new law. The court turned the trick, and appointed new men.

Mrs. Margaret Dikeman and granddaughter, Miss Constance Roberts Smith, of Washington, D. C., were in Centre county visiting their many relatives. Mrs. Dikeman's mother was a Durst, and consequently has a large relationship in Penns Valley. It is a long while since they left the Keystone state, but through the Reporter keep in touch with the local affairs here. At present the Washington people are in Petersburg, Huntingdon county.

Object of the Work and Results Obtained—Some of the Prominent Features.

GOING TO THE FARM HOMES

Thirteen Campaigns Have Been Carried on in Michigan, Ohio and Illinois—Holden's Plan Meets Warm Reception With the Farmers.

Prof. P. G. Holden, director of the Agricultural Extension Department of the International Harvester Company of New Jersey, has planned and put into operation a new method of extending agricultural knowledge.

Holden was the originator of agricultural demonstration trains; of agricultural short courses, and many other effective plans, through the agency of which millions of dollars have been added to the agricultural wealth of this country.

The latest plan of Holden is to place alfalfa upon every farm. There are three prominent features in his plan:

(1) The introduction of a comparatively new crop into the Corn Belt, Southern and Eastern states.
(2) Going direct to the homes of the farmers, where meetings are held in the fields, and success and failure discussed according to local conditions.
(3) The use of that most modern vehicle—the automobile.

Purpose of Campaign.

The primary purpose of the campaign is to show the American farmer that alfalfa is the most profitable crop he can grow; that it can be grown profitably upon every farm; that it enriches the soil; increases farm values; stimulates live stock growing and dairying; produces double that of other hay crops, and is better feed.

Thirteen campaigns have thus far been successfully conducted in Michigan, Ohio and Illinois.

Some of the Results.

Results of the Kent county (Mich.) campaign are:

(1) Six thousand farmers visited at their homes during a five-day campaign.
(2) Thirty-two meetings held.
(3) Three hundred and seventy-five miles traveled by the Alfalfa Automobile Train.
(4) One hundred and thirty-six alfalfa talks made by the Holden staff of alfalfa lecturers.
(5) Many applications for similar campaigns from all parts of the United States.

The Kent county campaign has been followed by campaigns in Allegan, Barry, Grand Traverse and St. Clair counties, Michigan; Van Wert, Marion, Fulton, Williams and Champaign counties, Ohio; and Sangamon, DuPage and Kane counties, Illinois.

Great Meeting in Ohio.

At one meeting in Ohio upon the farm of Joseph E. Wing, near Mechanicsburg, nearly 4,000 people gathered from all parts of Ohio and adjoining states to learn more about alfalfa. At this great meeting the Ohio State Alfalfa Growers' association was organized. Over 300 automoiles made up the alfalfa train. It is recorded as the greatest agricultural assemblage in the history of Ohio. Other Ohio counties where the work has been taken up report success on every hand.

Sangamon and Kane counties, Illinois, have both conducted great campaigns. At one meeting in Williamsville, Ill., over 1,200 farmers came to hear the alfalfa lecturers.

In all of these campaigns which were conducted within a period of about two months nearly 50,000 farmers have been reached with the gospel of alfalfa.

As a result also of the campaign work it is conservatively estimated that 200,000 acres of alfalfa will be seeded during this and the coming season.

Such is the result of the initial work of campaigning for alfalfa, but vastly more than this tangible result has been accomplished. Every farmer throughout the region where the work was conducted is talking about alfalfa. The co-operation of the schools in the territory is a very important and effective feature. School officials, from the highest to the lowest, have never failed to appreciate the opportunity.

Professor Holden has expressed himself as considering it the most wonderful experience and the most efficient work from the farm standpoint that he has ever taken.

But this is not all—wherever the farmers of any community are interested in the growing of alfalfa, when possible a follow-up man, thorough in his knowledge of alfalfa culture, will be sent out to assist them in getting a start. He will live with the farmers and aid them in solving the problems at home. He will go from farm to farm upon request and study success and failure.

Before the coming of 1914, campaigns will have been conducted in every part of the United States and Canada. Interest is growing so rapidly that many counties have organized campaigns and undertaken the work without assistance from the outside.

Joke of a Sultan.

The sultan of Turkey once played a joke at the expense of some medical experts at Constantinople. When the plague broke out in his capital the sultan asked if anything was known as to the cause. On being informed that it was to be found in the state of the drinking water, he called at once for six empty bottles, which he had filled in his presence, all from the same one of the palace wells, placed his own seal upon them, and then, without divulging their community of origin, handed all six to a prominent analyst. To his amazement the report sent in was that four of the samples contained plague microbes. The fifth was merely putrid water, and the sixth was quite pure. Abdul Hamid calmly shrugged his shoulders and kept his thoughts to himself.

Would Fill the Bill.

Some who have attended councils and associations can appreciate this story of the late Rev. Dr. Norman Macleod of Edinburgh. Going into a room in which was a cage containing a large owl, he surveyed it for a long time. The owl sat unmoved, placid and erect. His mien was dignified, his horns impressive, his eyes cold and observant, his countenance sagacious and critical. At length Norman broke silence, "Man, ye wad mak' a splendid moderawtor!"—Christian Register.

Miss Margery J. Bible, daughter of Mr. and Mrs J. R. Bible of Charlestown, Chester county, was married to Mr. Harry J. Windolph, Wednesday evening of last week, at the home of her parents, near Charlestown.

The house and lawn were artistically decorated with golden rod and fern. As the wedding march from Lohengrin was being played by Miss Elizabeth Dunmore the bridal party appeared on the porch where the ceremony took place. The Rev David Lord, pastor of the Charlestown Methodist church, performed the ceremony. Miss Joyce Bible attended her sister as maid of honor. Frank Windolph, brother of the groom, acted as best man. The ushers were Herbert Windolph and Paul Sanders of Bethlehem and Clyde Bible.

The bride was the recipient of many beautiful presents.

After a short trip Mr. and Mrs. Windolph will go to housekeeping at Rapp's Corner, West Pikeland, where they have their house ready for occupancy.

STATE S. S. CONVENTION.

Pennsylvania's Greatest Interdenominational Religious Organization to Meet in Williamsport.

The fifty-first annual convention of the Pennsylvania State Sabbath School Association is announced for Williamsport, October 8, 9 and 10. This great annual meeting for Sunday school workers grows in influence and power each year Pennsylvania still continues to lead in the number of Sunday-schools—the membership enrollment is but a few thousands less than 2 000 000

The State Association has for its constituency the eleven thousand and more Protestant Evangelical s hools scattered through the sixty-seven counties of the state. Each county will send a company of delegated workers to the state meeting at Williamsport. The number of accredited delegates will approximate 2 500 In addition to these there will be thousands of visitors.

Williamsport is Pennsylvania's most central city. Its population is about 50,000 It is a city of wealth, enterprise and culture. Strong committees, representing Williamsport's leading business men, are now at work preparing to entertain this most important convention.

The Chicken Thief.

This community has been pestered for forty years with a chicken thief, but during the last few years operations ceased, the first offense in a long while having come to light only within the recent past. It is reported that John Benner missed a bunch of chickens one night, and the next morning went on a hunt for them, and found them.

Benner Walker, a farmer west of Centre Hall, had a lot of chickens stolen on Friday night, and Saturday morning had a search warrant sworn out and with Constable W. H. Runkle the properties of Jacob From and James From were searched, but no poultry that could be identified was found.

To the Public.

The last issue of the "Democratic Watchman," September 12th, 1913 contained a communication on page 4, signed by H. S. Taylor, that now merits a brief statement from me:

I refer to the concluding seven paragraphs, overlooking the last. He therein invaded the sanctity of my home; but I am conscious that his charges regarding my personal relations towrads my late father, and also my aged mother, are infamous, wicked falsehoods. Being such, further discussion by me is unnecessary.

Tusseyville

The Y. P. S. meeting held here on Friday evening was well attended.

W. G. Runkle of Bellefonte visited his brother Hugh at this place on Sunday.

Miller's cider mill started operation here last week Now bring on your apples.

A large number of people from this place are attending Grange Encampment this week.

Mrs. Maria Wagner and daughter, Mrs. William Bitner, spent Thursday at the home of William Martz.

The meeting of the W. C. T. U. was held at the home of Mrs. Thomas Swartz last Thursday afternoon.

On Tuesday Messrs. William and George Swartz went to Selinsgrove where they will attend college this winter.

Mrs. Adam Martz has returned to her home in Altoona after spending several weeks with friends and relatives here.

Your correspondent is sorry to say that Mrs. Sarah Horner, who has been ill for some time, is not improving at this writing.

Despite the dry weather the farmers in this locality have commenced the fall seeding. Others are cutting their corn which has practically dried upon the stalk.

Among the callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Horner, on Sunday, were Mrs. George Lee and daughter Ruth, Mrs. Elmira Moyer, John Zerby, Charles Stoner, Hugh Runkle, Mr. and Mrs. David Young, William G. Runkle, Mr. and Mrs John Zerby and daughter Sarah Elizabeth.

The annual Harvest Home services in the Lutheran church were held on Sunday evening. The church was beautifully decorated with flowers, fruits, vegetables and grain, selected from the bountiful crops produced by mother earth. The sermon by Rev. F. W. Barry, the pastor, was interesting from beginning to end. The offering was sufficient to permit the congregation to retain its reputation for liberal giving on this and similar occasions.

JOHN ROUSH WAYLAID.

Millheim Narrows Scene of Holdup—Man Beaten and Robbed by Three Young Men.

John Roush, aged some seventy years, while walking through the Millheim Narrows near the toll gate on Tuesday afternoon, was robbed of a purse and watch. Mr. Roush was first attacked singlehanded by a young man, but the retired farmer was getting the best of his antagonist, and then two others came from ambush. They felled the aged man, and beat him severely, and when blinded and almost unconscious his pocketbook and watch were taken from him.

When left alone, Mr. Roush began dragging himself toward the toll gate, and finally reached that place, and from there the news of the robbery was sent out.

In a short time the Narrows was picketed, and later Sheriff Lee and two state troopers were on the scene There was much excitement about Millheim, but the robbers up to Wednesday morning could not be discovered.

DEATHS

From Monday's Philipsburg Journal.

It becomes our sad duty to chronicle the death of our esteemed townsman, Benjamin Franklin Morgan, the well known contractor and builder, which occurred at 4 o'clock on Sunday morning at his home on East Presqueisle street, following a stroke of paralysis suffered by him about midnight of Thursday, September 11th.

The deceased, the fifth son of a family of thirteen children, was born at Honey Brook, Chester county, Pa., on August 13, 1836, making his age seventy-seven years, one month and one day. His parents were Eli and Sarah McCall Morgan, long since deceased.

When a young man Mr. Morgan came to Centre county, where he has lived ever since and most of this time residing in Philipsburg. He was quite prominent as a contractor and builder, and while he did much work on the State College buildings some years ago which demonstrated his ability in this connection, with his home people St Paul's Episcopal church, just recently completed, will stand as a beautiful monument to his mechanical skill.

On May 13 1869, he was married to Miss Clarissa Jane Faulkner, a daughter of the late William Allen Faulkner, deceased, who survives, together with one son, L. Raymond Morgan, and one sister, Mrs. A. M. Herr, of Los Los Angeles, Cal.

Mr. Morgan served his country faithfully in the civil war, being a member of Company C, 136th Penn'a Volunteers, receiving an honorable discharge. He was also a staunch Democrat, an enterprising citizen, a kind husband and father, ever courteous and genial, and had an unusually large circle of friends who most profoundly mourn his death.

The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at 2:30, and it is very fitting that the services are to be held in St. Paul's church, of which he was the builder, with Revs. F. T. Eastment and R. P. Miller in charge. Interment will be made in the Philipsburg cemetery.

In the midst of a season of enjoyment, J. N Stover died at the home of his sister, Mrs. Horace A. Kauffman, at Zion early Thursday morning of last week. He began to complain several hours previous, but the anticipation of meeting old friends and relatives at the Kauffman home on that day no doubt stimulated him and induced him to make no demonstration. At five o'clock he was out in the yard, and there fell over dead.

Twenty-nine years ago Mr. Stover went to Kansas with his wife, nee Julia Gephart, locating at Baldwin City. There survive him Mrs. Stover and seven children. Also a sister, Mrs. Horace A. Kauffman.

Services were held over the remains at the Kauffman home on Saturday. The remains were shipped to his home, where interment was made on Tuesday. He was aged fifty-seven years, nine months, twenty-seven days.

John L. Spitler, a leading citizen of South Philipsburg, died at his home in that borough Wednesday evening of last week. He was born in Bald Eagle Valley, and was aged almost sixty-nine years. He was a Civil War veteran, a member of Company H, Twenty-second Pennsylvania Cavalry.

Adds Fertility to the Soil—Yields Three to Four Crops of Hay Each Year in the Corn Belt.

EXCELS EVERY OTHER CROP

The Introduction of Alfalfa as a General Farm Crop in the United States Will Revolutionize Agriculture—Means More Live Stock, Better Soil and Larger Returns From the Crops That Follow.

By PROF. P. G. HOLDEN, Director Agricultural Extension Department International Harvester Co. of New Jersey.

Alfalfa Should be Grown on Every Farm

1. It is a profitable crop.
2. Increases farm values.
3. Excels every other crop
   In yield per acre
   In feeding value
   As a drouth resister
   As a soil enricher.
4. No harder to grow than clover.
5. Make a beginning—start now grow some alfalfa.

Repeated experiments made by the agricultural colleges, and the results obtained by the actual growers of alfalfa in the semi-arid sections of the west, throughout the corn belt states, and in the south and east, are conclusive evidence of the great value of alfalfa.

There are few farmers whose profits would not be increased greatly by raising alfalfa. Every farmer should aim to produce, as far as possible, his foodstuffs upon his own farm.

During the last few years, the area devoted to alfalfa has greatly increased in the region west of the Missouri river, and it is certain that there will be an equally rapid increase throughout the eastern and southern parts of the United States.

Many of the attempts in the past to grow alfalfa in the humid regions have failed, but with our present knowledge of the requirements of the crop there will be little, if any, more trouble in securing a stand.

Alfalfa will soon be grown abundantly and profitably upon every farm. It is no more difficult to grow than clover and gives double the yield. The deep rooting habit of alfalfa enables it to resist drouth when clover, timothy, blue grass and other forage grasses die for want of moisture. Alfalfa roots grow deep into the soil—far beyond the roots of other plants.

Its drouth resisting power is of no greater importance than its great value as a soil enricher. The long roots bring phosphorus, potash and other plant foods from below and store them in the upper soil for the use of other plants. Experiments show greatly increased yields of other crops grown upon alfalfa sod.

Alfalfa is rich in protein the most essential element in feed to make bone, blood and muscle in growing animals.

Why We Need Alfalfa.

There is no combination of feeds so economical for the production of beef, pork, mutton, butter and eggs, as corn and alfalfa. Neither will give the best results alone. We need alfalfa because it balances up the corn ration and saves the large waste of starch which always takes place where corn is fed alone. We need alfalfa because we can by means of it grow on our own farms the protein more profitably than we can buy it in feed stuffs. We need alfalfa because it feeds the soil and enables us to grow larger crops of corn and oats. We need alfalfa because it produces on an average double the feed value per acre of clover or any other forage crop.

Advisable to Inoculate.

In regions where alfalfa has not been grown it is found to be necessary to inoculate the ground by sowing three or four bags of soil secured from a field where alfalfa or sweet clover has been grown for a number of years; or where it is more convenient, artificial culture, such as "nitragin," "farmogerm," etc., may be applied. Where alfalfa has not been grown before it may make the difference between success and failure.

Alfalfa Essentials.

A well prepared, firm, solid seed bed, plenty of good barnyard manure, and fallow to kill the weeds, are most important. Lime? Yes, one to two loads per acre, and by all means inoculate. Ground too wet for corn is not suited for alfalfa.

Make a Beginning—Start Now.

Every farmer should try at least a small piece of alfalfa and if he does not succeed at first, try again and keep on trying until he does succeed. It is worth the while. If the work is thoroughly done and at the proper time, you will most certainly succeed in securing a good stand; if the work is half done and out of season, you will just as certainly fail. Make a beginning—start now.

Mr. and Mrs. Ammon Burkholder and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Person of Philipsburg, New Jersey, and Mr. and Mrs George Roberts, of Hartford, Connecticut, are in Centre Hall. The latter two are at the home of B. D. Brisbin and the others at the Mrs. Strohm home.

RE-ORGANIZATION WINS.

D. W. Zerby Elected Over William F Smith for State Committeeman by a Vote of Two to One.

The only contest in the county at the primary election on Tuesday was for State Committeeman, the candidates being W. D. Zerby, Esq., representing the Wilson-Byran-Palmer-Guthrie Re-organization movement, and William F. Smith, representing the unhorsed Guffey-Hall element. The result shows that Centre county Democrats elected Mr. Zerby by a vote of two to one. Smith lost his own town in Millheim by a vote of that proportion.

CENTREHALL BORO.

There was no stir in borough politic on primary election day, and the result shows it. The only active candidate was Cyrus Brungart, for justice of the peace, who was at work all day. His opponent was not at the polls except to vote. The result in the borough is that nearly every candidate on both the Democratic and Republican tickets is a Democrat. The tickets named are as follows:

State Committeeman—Zerby 54, Smith 33.
Jury Commissioner—Hazel 46, Stann 32.
Burgess—M. L. Emerick 2R, 10D.
Tax Collector—Bartholomew 15R, 70D; Puff 19D.
Auditor—Knarr 2R, 84D; Samuel Kreamer 4D; B. D. Brisbin 2R, making a tie on the Republican ticket.
School director—Luse 3R, 61D; Dauberman 6R, 17D.
Judge of election—Luse 48D, Brisbin 4R.
Justice of the peace—Brungart 24R, 59D.
Inspectors—Moore 56D, W. J. Smith 10R.
Council—F. W. Bradford, W. H. Meyer, Daniel Daup were nominated by both parties; John H. Weber on the Democratic ticket, and M. L Emerick on the Republican ticket.
Assessor—Boozer 13R, 77D.

There was a scattering vote for all offices.

LOCALS.

In Millheim Zerby got twice as many votes as Smith.

H. S Harro, who last April sold his plumbing business at Boalsburg to Charles Segner and Harold Coxey, and then moved to Heilwood, Indiana county, came back to Centre county and again became the owner of the business he sold. He and his family came to Centre Hall the latter part of last week, and will camp on Grange Park until their furniture arrives, when they will take up housekeeping at Boalsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Hervey Smith, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hileman of Montgomery; Mrs. J. R. Glass and Mrs. M. I. Albright of Muncy are a new camping party on Grange Park, and are occupying the Reporter headquarters. The former gentleman is president of the First National Bank in Montgomery and is also interested in the Penn furniture factory, in that town, of which his son is general manager. Mrs. Glass is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Smith, and her husband is a lumberman who has been remarkably successful in his line. The other members of the party are also well-to-do citizens in their respective homes, and came here for a week's outing. They will have a number of Lycoming county friends visit them during the week.

Harris Township.

Miss Edith Hartswick of Altoona visited at Boalsburg.

Miss Edith Summey of State College spent a few days in Boalsburg.

W. E. Gettig and son William of Altoona spent a few days at Boalsburg.

Mrs. M. M. Frink of Tyrone is visiting her sister, Mrs. Laura Bricker.

As usual a large percentage of people from this place are attending the Grangers picnic.

Wm. Myers and son Paul of Spring Mills made a business trip to Boalsburg on Monday.

Miss Mary Andes of East Petersburg is visiting with relatives at Boalsburg, this week.

Paul Rupp departed on Saturday for Mercersburg where he will be a student in the academy.

John K. Stover returned to Valparaiso, Indiana, last week where he is attending a medical college.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Albright attended the funeral of their grandson, Wm. Albright, at Filmore on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Rupp returned last week from a three weeks' visit with relatives in the eastern part of the state.

Dr. W. F. Curtis, president of the Allentown College for Women, preached in the Reformed church on Sunday evening.

The sale of personal property of Mrs. Hynes on Saturday was well attended and goods sold at fair prices The property was not sold.

Rev. and Mrs. S. C. Stover, O. W. Stover and Mrs. E. M. Kuhn attended the funeral service held at Zion on Saturday over the remains of J. N Stover who died quite suddenly at the home of his sister, Mrs. Kauffman, on Thursday morning.

Visitors at the home of Walker Shutt from Allentown during a period of three weeks were Mrs Susan Faizinger, a daughter of Joseph Hettinger, his granddaughter ——— Mulberger, and great-grandchildren Loraine and Fritzie Mulberger.

JAPS HERE; SENT BY MIKADO

Railroad Official and Student of Mining Investigate American Methods.

Pittsburgh, Pa.—Commissioned by the Mikado, two Japanese subjects are here gleaning information on industrial and educational matters to be put to practical use when they return to their native land.

Yakichi Haga, traffic manager of the Imperial Railroad in Japan, is making a trip around the world, having left Japan last winter. He spent several months on the western and gulf coasts.

Haga was interested in Pennsylvania's new public utilities law. In seven years, he says, Japan has revolutionized its railroad system. In that time 17 private railroads have been absorbed by the government and amalgamated into one road, covering the entire Japanese domain. He is traffic manager of this road.

Haga is of the opinion that government ownership in this country, from what he has been able to learn, would be a great thing. He says Japan has, in a few years, placed the transportation facilities on a basis that would otherwise have taken decades. This has been done, he says, by sending students to the United States to study railroading here.

Keosuke Kanako, who is from Akita, Japan, is on his way to Japan from Berlin, Germany, where he has been a student in the Royal Technical School for three years. When he returns to Japan he will assume a professorship in the Royal School of Mines.

While here Kanako will inspect the Carnegie Steel plants and the educational institutions of the city.

LUCKLESS CHILD'S ARM BROKEN

Both Legs Have Been Fractured, Kicked By Horse and Suffered Every Ill.

Washington, Pa.—Riley Walters has again proved his right to the title of the most luckless boy in Greene county. Riley is aged 2 years and 11 months, and his brief career has been one almost continual round of accidents and mishaps.

He fell, and when he was picked up it was found one of his arms was broken. The boy but recently recovered from injuries sustained when he tried to swing on the tail of a horse grazing in a pasture. The horse kicked and the boy was injured about the head. On his first birthday young Riley's right leg was broken and the day he was aged 2 years his left leg was fractured. Between accidents he has suffered practically every ailment known to childhood.

Its Use.

"After all, dust is a great publicity promoter."

"How so?"

"Doesn't it keep the streets and public highways in the eye of the people?"

Japanese Courtesy.

A country where courtesy is a business, and business but a gentle avocation, reflects its peculiarity in the most trifling details of conduct. Such a country is Japan and such a detail recently came into notice when a city electric bureau of Tokyo asked the patrons on its street car lines how they preferred to be addressed when it was necessary to urge them to "move up." Out of the 2,719 suggestions sent in the Independent selects and translates six, as follows:

"Those not getting off, to the middle, please!"

"The middle is more comfortable!"

"I'm sorry, but all move on by one strap!"

"There's a pretty girl about the middle of the car!"

"A pickpocket has just come on board!"

The municipal authorities frowned somewhat upon the last three suggestions, but the conductors will be taught to use some of the other forms.

Is it possible that the Japanese hope to enjoy an efficient traction service on such terms? Apparently they hope to, and we pass along the Japanese idea as a helpful hint to the gentlemen who jerk a gong on the hear of our own street cars.

PECULIAR LIVE STOCK FARM

Canadian Has Pleasant Possibilities in His Proposed Raising of Black Foxes.

Probably few, if any, men in this province have started a black fox farm at less cost than Robert Rowley, proprietor of the Laurentide preserves at Lake Edward, says a Quebec correspondent of the Montreal Gazette. While up at Roberval Mr. Rowley heard that a man there had four young pups, part red and part black. It is said that nobody wanted to buy the animals, though the price was about $10 or so a head. Mr. Rowley gave the man his price. The next morning Mr. Pridman, manager of the black fox ranch of Lieutenant Governor Wood of New Brunswick, who had been scouring the country for young stock, saw the foxes and immediately went into the hotel and in front of every one present offered Mr. Rowley several thousand dollars, but was refused. When the villagers realized the offer some of them almost collapsed on the spot and the place has been fox crazy ever since.

Mr. Rowley is also purchasing a pure black dog fox at a very small sum and will cross it with the litter which he got so cheaply. He expects to have a litter of pure black foxes next spring.

Quaint Critic.

George B. Luks, the painter, said to a critic in his New York studio: "Your criticism is at any rate original and amusing, my boy. It reminds me of the colored laundress in the Uffizi Gallery. "When this colored laundress visited the Uffizi, her mistress led her up to Correggio's masterpiece. 'There, Hannah, what do you think of that?' she said. Hannah, shaking her head lugubriously, stared a long while at the pictured angels whose white robes were all yellowed by time, and then, with a sigh and a disapproving shake of the head, she said: 'De saints is de last folks to put up wiv bad laundry work.'"

What She Wanted.

She walked into the public library and sweetly said:

"I would like 'The Red Boat,' please."

The librarian diligently searched the catalogue and came back with:

"I don't think we have such a book."

Flushing a bit, she said sweetly: "May the title be 'The Scarlet Yacht?'

Again he looked, with the same result. Then with her pretty fingers she dived into her bag, consulted a slip of paper, and said:

"Oh, I beg your pardon. I meant the 'Rubiyat.'"—Glasgow Weekly Herald.

Rheumatism Is Torture

Many pains that pass as rheumatism are due to weak kidneys—to the failure of the kidneys to drive off uric acid thoroughly.

When you suffer achy, bad joints, backache too, dizziness and some urinary disturbances, get Doan's Kidney Pills, the remedy that is recommended by over 150,000 people in many different lands.

Doan's Kidney Pills help weak kidneys to drive out the uric acid which is the cause of backache, rheumatism and lumbago.

A party of commercial travelers were drawing the long-bow and spinning yarns of wonderful adventures on sea and land. A silent listener sat in the corner. Presently one of the company addressed him.

"Have you traveled much, sir?"

"A little. I've been round the world seven times."

"Then you must have had some striking experiences. Perhaps you would like to tell us one or two."

"Well," said the stranger, "perhaps the most remarkable was on my last voyage. At one time we found the heat so terrific that we used to take it in turns to go down into the stokehold to get a cooler."

No more yarns were related that evening.

Women Avoid Operations

When a woman suffering from some form of feminine disorder is told that an operation is necessary, it of course frightens her.

The very thought of the hospital operating table and the surgeon's knife strikes terror to her heart, and no wonder. It is quite true that some of these troubles may reach a stage where an operation is the only resource, but thousands of women have avoided the necessity of an operation by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. This fact is attested by the grateful letters they write to us after their health has been restored.

These Two Women Prove Our Claim.

Cary, Maine.—"I feel it a duty I owe to all suffering women to tell what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for me. One year ago I found myself a terrible sufferer. I had pains in both sides and such a soreness I could scarcely staighten up at times. My back ached, I had no appetite and was so nervous I could not sleep, then I would be so tired mornings that I could scarcely get around. It seemed almost impossible to move or do a bit of work and I thought I never would be any better until I submitted to an operation. I commenced taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and soon felt like a new woman. I had no pains, slept well, had good appetite and was fat and could do almost all my own work for a family of four. I shall always feel that I owe my good health to your medicine."—Mrs. Hayward Sowers, Cary, Me.

Charlotte, N. C.—"I was in bad health for two years, with pains in both sides and was very nervous. If I even lifted a chair it would cause a hemorrhage. I had a growth which the doctor said was a tumor and I never would get well unless I had an operation. A friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I gladly say that I am now enjoying fine health and am the mother of a nice baby girl. You can use this letter to help other suffering women."—Mrs. Rosa Sims, 16 Wyona St., Charlotte, N. C.

Now answer this question if you can. Why should a woman submit to a surgical operation without first giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial? You know that it has saved many others—why should it fail in your case?

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No one sick with woman's ailments does justice to herself if she does not try this famous medicine made from roots and herbs, it has restored so many suffering women to health.

MADE RULES FOR COMPOSERS

Frederick the Great, Talented Musician Himself, Laid Down Imperative Orders.

Frederick the Great was the most distinguished musical amateur of his age, and his position gave him the power to regulate the style of composition employed by the musicians of his period. For instance, he made the following rules to be followed by operatic composers: "All the principal singers must have big arias and different in character, as an adagio aria, which must be very cantabile to show off to good advantage the voice and delivery of the singer; in de capo the artist can then display her art in embellishing variations; then there must be an allegro aria with brilliant passages, a gallant aria, a duet for the first male singer and the prima donna. In these pieces the big forms of measure must be used so as to give pathos to the tragedy; the smaller forms of time, such as two-four and three-eight, are for the secondary roles, and for these a tempa minuetto can be written. There must be the necessary changes of time, but minor keys must be avoided in the theater, because they are too mournful."

Its Adornments.

"What's the 'plant' in Wall street?"

"Mostly green suckers."

GROWING STRONGER
Apparently, with Advancing Age.

"At the age of 50 years I collapsed from excessive coffee drinking," writes a man in Mo. "For four years I shambled about with the aid of crutches or cane, most of the time unable to dress myself without help.

"My feet were greatly swollen, my right arm was shrunken and twisted inward, the fingers of my right hand were clenched and could not be extended except with great effort and pain. Nothing seemed to give me more than temporary relief.

"Now, during all this time and for about 30 years previously, I drank daily an average of 6 cups of strong coffee—rarely missing a meal.

"My wife at last took my case into her own hands and bought some Postum. She made it according to directions and I liked it fully as well as the best high-grade coffee.

"Improvement set in at once. In about 6 months I began to work a little, and in less than a year I was very much better, improving rapidly from day to day. I am now in far better health than most men of my years and apparently growing stronger with advancing age.

"I am busy every day at some kind of work and am able to keep up with the procession without a cane. The arm and hand that were once almost useless, now keep far ahead in rapidity of movement and beauty of penmanship."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Write for copy of the little book, "The Road to Wellville."

Postum comes in two forms:

Regular Postum—must be well boiled.

Instant Postum is a soluble powder. A teaspoonful dissolves quickly in a cup of hot water and, with the addition of cream and sugar, makes a delicious beverage instantly.

"There's a reason" for Postum.

COMMERCIAL

Weekly Review of Trade and Market Reports.

Dun's Review says:

"Early promise of another year of remarkable crops will not be fully realized, yet the purchasing power of the agricultural community is sustained by high prices for the leading farm products. Official confirmation of considerable deterioration in cotton caused a sharp rise in that staple, and corn advanced on a continuance of hot, dry weather.

"The reduced harvests are calculated to ultimately have some effect upon railway freight traffic, but it is gratifying that sentiment remains cheerful in spite of the less favorable outlook in certain directions.

"While the delay in the adoption of the pending Tariff bill acts as a check, business has nevertheless emerged from its customary summer lethargy, and with the approach of the fall season the revival of activity is becoming more pronounced.

"Failures the past week numbered 205 in the United States, against 243 last year, and 19 in Canada, compared with 21 a year ago."

Physicians Recommend Castoria

CASTORIA has met with pronounced favor on the part of physicians, pharmaceutical societies and medical authorities. It is used by physicians with results most gratifying. The extended use of Castoria is unquestionably the result of three facts: First—The indisputable evidence that it is harmless: Second—That it not only allays stomach pains and quiets the nerves, but assimilates the food: Third—It is an agreeable and perfect substitute for Castor Oil. It is absolutely safe. It does not contain any Opium, Morphine, or other narcotic and does not stupefy. It is unlike Soothing Syrups, Bateman's Drops, Godfrey's Cordial, etc. This is a good deal for a Medical Journal to say. Our duty, however, is to expose danger and record the means of advancing health. The day for poisoning innocent children through greed or ignorance ought to end. To our knowledge, Castoria is a remedy which produces composure and health, by regulating the system—not by stupefying it—and our readers are entitled to the information.—Hall's Journal of Health.

Letters from Prominent Physicians addressed to Chas. H. Fletcher.

Dr. B. Halstead Scott, of Chicago, Ills., says: "I have prescribed your Castoria often for infants during my practice, and find it very satisfactory."

Dr. William Belmont, of Cleveland, Ohio, says: "Your Castoria stands first in its class. In my thirty years of practice I can say I never have found anything that so filled the place."

Dr. J. H. Taft, of Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "I have used your Castoria and found it an excellent remedy in my household and private practice for many years. The formula is excellent."

Dr. R. J. Hamlen, of Detroit, Mich., says: "I prescribe your Castoria extensively, as I have never found anything to equal it for children's troubles. I am aware that there are imitations in the field, but I always see that my patients get Fletcher's."

Dr. Wm. J McCrann, of Omaha, Neb., says: "As the father of thirteen children I certainly know something about your great medicine, and aside from my own family experience I have in my years of practice found Castoria a popular and efficient remedy in almost every home."

Dr. J. R. Clausen, of Philadelphia, Pa., says: "The name that your Castoria has made for itself in the tens of thousands of homes blessed by the presence of children, scarcely needs to be supplemented by the endorsement of the medical profession, but I, for one, most heartily endorse it and believe it an excellent remedy."

Dr. R. M. Ward, of Kansas City, Mo., says: "Physicians generally do not prescribe proprietary preparations, but in the case of Castoria my experience, like that of many other physicians, has taught me to make an exception. I prescribe your Castoria in my practice because I have found it to be a thoroughly reliable remedy for children's complaints. Any physician who has raised a family, as I have, will join me in heartiest recommendation of Castoria."

NOT WORKING FOR ART'S SAKE

Violinist Certainly Had No Mistaken Idea as to His Ear for the Melody.

The Blue Forest orchestra had just finished an ear-piercing melody on the front lawn of "Berry Inn."

One of the guests approached the violinist and somberly inquired:

"Did you play by note?"

"Niver a note do I play, sir," replied Mr. Hennessey, mopping his fevered brow with a handkerchief of sanguinary hue.

"Ah, by ear, then?" said the summer boarder, with a smile of gracious interest.

"Niver an ear helps me," responded the other, returning his handkerchief to his capacious pocket.

"Indeed! May I ask how you—what you do play by, then?" persisted the inquirer.

"By main strin'th, be gorry!" said Mr. Hennessey, with a weary air, as he plunged his ancient instrument into its green bag; "an' it's mighty dry wurrk an' that's no mistake."

THE BEST TREATMENT FOR ITCHING SCALPS, DANDRUFF AND FALLING HAIR

To allay itching and irritation of the scalp, prevent dry, thin and falling hair, remove crusts, scales and dandruff, and promote the growth and beauty of the hair, the following special treatment is most effective, agreeable and economical. On retiring, comb the hair out straight all around, then begin at the side and make a parting, gently rubbing Cuticura Ointment into the parting with a bit of soft flannel held over the end of the finger. Anoint additional partings about half an inch apart until the whole scalp has been treated, the purpose being to get the Cuticura Ointment on the scalp skin rather than on the hair. It is well to place a light covering over the hair to protect the pillow from possible stain. The next morning, shampoo with Cuticura Soap and hot water. Shampoos alone may be used as often as agreeable, but once or twice a month is generally sufficient for this special treatment for women's hair.

Rational Love.

"The rational rather than the romantic view of marriage is the one most in favor with the young people of the twentieth century," said Dr. H. Lucas Wentworth, the well known eugenics expert, in an address in Cleveland.

"The rational view will make for happier marriages. And this rational view is beautifully illustrated in two questions—a little dialogue—running thus:

"'Will you always love me?'

"'Will you always be lovable?'"

DEATHS.

John G. Uzzle, who for many years in business and politics played an important part in Snow Shoe, died at his home in that place at the age of eighty years. He was born in Wales. He came to America with his parents when a lad of about nine years, and sixty years ago he established himself in Snow Shoe. He had been in the hotel business in Snow Shoe for more than fifty years, and also engaged in lumbering.

Twice married, John Uzzle leaves several sons and daughters to survive him. His first wife was Elizabeth Etters, who died thirty-nine years ago. Children of this union surviving are George and James Uzzle of Snow Shoe. His second wife was Eliza Watson, who survives, with these children: Rebecca, wife of James Russell; Loreno, wife of Edward Bland, of Snow Shoe; Josephine, wife of Melvin Derr, of Tyrone; Ivy, wife Lemuel Zindel of Snow Shoe and John G. Uzzle, Jr., at home.

Funeral services were held at Snow Shoe Friday at one o'clock. Interment was made in the Askey cemetery.

On Tuesday of last week, Mrs. Elizabeth Roan Benner died at the home of her son-in-law, Lloyd Woomer, at Lemont, aged eighty years, four months and five days. She was married to Harvey Benner in 1867, and there survive her five children, namely: Mrs. William Bodle, Samuel and William, Mrs. Cyrus Gearhart, Mrs. Lloyd Woomer.

She was a life long member of the Methodist church. Funeral services were held in the Buffalo Run Presbyterian church, conducted by Rev. W K Harnish, and interment was made in the Myer's cemetery.

Gladys Delores Keister, daughter of Mr. and Mrs J. W. Keister of Asronsburg died at her parents' home, aged three years and sixteen days. Funeral services were held Saturday following the death and interment was made in the Union cemetery at Woodward.

LOCALS.

We can now spell Re-organizers with a bigger R than ever.

Here's to wishing the newly built road through Centre Hall will wear forever.

The Centre Hall school board is having a closed porch built to the front of the school house.

The first primary election under the new law is over. What do you think of the results?

Adam P. Maize will leave Millheim to locate in Bethlehem where he will engage in the insurance business.

Dr. Franklin Jacob Wagenseller, a prominent Selins Grove physician, died in a Philadelphia hospital after an operation for uremic poisoning.

Miss Bessie Breon is back from Camden, New York, where for several months she was at the home of her brother, Maurice P. Breon.

John S. Brumgardner, who removed to Oriole about a year ago, will remove to State College and will again take possession of his property on South Allen street.

The wheat crop in Penns Valley is not nearly all sown beginning of this week. Many fields are ready to receive the seed, while in others the soil became too dry to pulverize.

D. L. Bartges purchased the home owned and occupied by James S. Reish, in Centre Hall, and will move into it next spring. Mr. Reish will move onto his farm, near Potters Mills.

Mrs. H. W. Kreamer and Mrs. S. W. Smith represented the Centre Hall temperance union at the county convention held in Bellefonte on Thursday and Friday. Miss Savilla Rearick, an officer in the county organization, also attended the convention.

The C. H. Breon Auto Company during the past ten days sold three Ford touring cars—one to Charles F. Stover, of near Millheim; one to George Guisewite, of Fiedler, and one to Clayton Etters, of Oak Hall. This firm has now sold a total of forty-seven cars this year.

P. F. Keller was in Centre Hall from Saturday until Monday. He is a salesman for a large soap concern, and his territory is Central Pennsylvania. The primary object of his short stay was to see his daughter, Miss Kathryn Keller, who will remain over the Encampment and Fair.

The election comes on November fourth. In Centre county we will be spared a campaign, as the only office to be filled in the county is Jury Commissioner, and the salary is too small to set to work the boosters. Of course every borough and township has a number of candidates who no doubt will do a bit of real campaigning, but this will only add a little spice to local politics.

Fertilizers—All Grades.

THEY LOVE THEIR PAJAMAS.

Englishmen Said to Take a Delight In Wearing Them Publicly.

Writing from South Africa about the sights to be seen in that country, E. W. Howe in his monthly says:

"On the line between Bulawayo and Salisbury there are a good many towns, including one built around the best gold mine in Rhodesia. And how the people turned out to see the train come in! At one place we estimated that there must have been 500 around the station.

"Trains travel over the line only two or three times a week, and people seem to come from great distances in the country to see the trains go by. But between the stations there were millions of acres of land as wild as it was in the days of Adam.

"Early in the morning our English passengers walked about in pajamas when we stopped at stations. Englishmen love that sort of thing. At Victoria falls they visited the Rain forest in pajamas, and in Johannesburg I was told that on Sundays and holidays pajamas are worn around houses and yards until lunch time.

"Englishmen show their pajamas so much that I cordially hate that particular form of nightdress. Englishmen have the same passion for running around in pajamas that American boys have for running around in baseball suits."

JUMPS THE EYE MAKES.

It Sees an Object by Piecemeal and Not at a Glance.

The eye does not take in an object at a glance, but piecemeal. It follows the outline of the object, but does so by jumping from point to point in an irregular manner, never twice alike.

In looking at a large circle, for instance, the movement is not regular, the gaze passing from point to point until a complete mental image of the circle is formed, even though the person undergoing the tests starts at the top of the circle and attempts to follow its outline all around back to the starting place. Such ocular movements are so rapid that one is not aware of them.

Proof of the irregular movement of the eye may be provided, according to the Optical Journal and Review, by means of the motion picture camera. A small, bright light is placed across the room, and this forms a small image ion the cornea of the eye. As the eye attempts to follow the curve of the test object the motion picture camera takes a rapid succession of views of the eye and its bright spot. Then a comparison of the resulting prints and the position of the bright spots in each shows the movements of the eyeball in following the circle.

Old French in Official England.

One may not be ignorant, perhaps, that French, old French, remains as the language used in certain royal proclamations in England.

So when "the king's assent" is given before the throne in "the painted chamber" the clerk cries in the language of our father, "Le roy le veult," ("the king so pleases"). If the bill that he is asked to approve is a money bill the clerk adds after a profound obeisance, "The king thanks his good subjects, accepts their benevolence and is pleased." The proclamation on ascending the throne is preceded by the traditional call of the French heralds of former times, "Oyez, oyez, oyez!"

Alas, that time has disfigured this old world of our country, and today the phlegmatic English herald cries thrice to the people: "Oh, yes! Oh, yes! Oh, yes!"—Cri de Paris.

National Baths.

He was a gentleman who was in Washington as a minister representing Honduras. Diplomats, according to the popular conception, never say the wrong thing. They are believed to be the delicacy of language and the finesse of vocabulary. This particular diplomat entered an uptown barber shop in Washington and got a shave after he had explained what he wanted in words which were more full of accent than of fluency.

"Now, sir," said the barber briskly, "can't we give you a Turkish bath."

"No-o-o!" replied the man from Honduras, with some hesitation. "You see, I'm no—no Turk."—Popular Magazine.

Plants and Electricity.

The idea of growing plants by electricity has been referred to as the "last cry" in gardening and floriculture; but, as a matter of fact, the idea is nearly a couple of centuries old. As long ago as 1747 electricity, as an aid to plant cultivation, was advocated by a writer in the old Gentleman's Magazine, who mentioned the astounding results he had achieved from electrifying a myrtle seventeen times.—London Tit-Bits.

A Thackeray Slip.

Thackeray asked Lowell to point out candidly any error of Queen Anne English in the novel "Henry Esmond." Lowell asked if people used at that time the phrase "different to."

"Hang it all!" cried Thackeray. "No, of course they didn't."

Draws the Line There.

"Yes, but it hates to buy wedding presents for him," added the simple mug.—Philadelphia Record.

PERSIAN OPIUM.

Turning the Poppy Juice Into Dried Cakes For Export.

Persian opium juice is sold in large copper vessels by the grower to the merchant, in whose hands it undergoes several processes in order to preserve it from fermentation and decay. On sunny, fine, hot days the Persian caravanseries, where opium dealers have their magazines, present an interesting picture. The juice is brought out to be prepared into cakes for export.

On large wooden boards, two and a half feet long and one and a half feet broad, the sticky mass is spread out with spade-like tools to permit the water it contains to evaporate. Experienced workers move from board to board, turning over the layers every now and then, that the heat and sun may dry up the exposed surfaces and render the opium fit for making into cakes. In favorable weather this process takes only an hour or so, and the opium is ready for the next manipulation.

It is now scraped off and is rolled into stiff, dough-like lumps and handed to a man who divides it into smaller portions, weighing one pound each, which he passes on to molders, by whom they are pressed into the wooden forms and then laid on a large board for the final drying process. When this is completed the cakes are rolled up in red paper imported specially from China. One hundred and forty-four are put in tin lined wooden cases are covered with strong hides and sacking. Two cases form a mule load.—Christian Herald.

BUSHY TAILED RATS.

They Will Steal Anything Bright That They Can Carry Away.

In the west and north as far as Hudson bay a species of rat is found that has a tail like the squirrel and is known as the bushy tailed rat, although more familiarly as the pack rat because of the curious trait it has of packing off with everything it can get hold of and carry. One reads a great many things regarding the intelligence of rats, but from all accounts these pack rats seem to be the cleverest of the race.

Trappers and campers out tell innumerable stories about them. They will steal knives, forks, spoons, anything, in fact, that is bright and portable, and will carry the stolen articles to their nests to play with or take them somewhere and leave them in place of other articles they steal. Dr. Merriam, the naturalist, was told a story by a hunter which illustrated this odd fancy of the pack rat.

The hunter had gone to sleep, leaving a knife sticking in a log. He was awakened in the night by a noise which he discovered by the light of the campfire was made by a couple of pack rats sitting on the log in which the hunter had left the knife. The knife was gone and the rats were trying to put a stick about a foot long in its place. They were making an effort to get the stick to stand up in the crack, but not having the skill to insert it properly it fell repeatedly, making the odd sound which had disturbed and awakened the owner of the knife.—New York Sun.

By Their Ribs You May Know Them.

Umbrellas sometimes speak louder than words. The traveling Englishman had become so cosmopolitan that the umbrella mender could not tell his customer was English until he opened the umbrella. Then he said:

"English, I suppose? Anyhow, your umbrella is. Umbrellas have a distinct nationality, especially American and English umbrellas. By their ribs you may know them. American umbrellas are best provided with those supports. If intended for a lady an American umbrella has nine ribs, if for a gentleman ten or even twelve, as against eight ribs in English umbrellas for either sex. Even this number represents a big cut in the anatomy of an American umbrella, which formerly contained twelve or fifteen ribs for a woman and as high as twenty for a gentleman."—New York Sun.

Reading His Fortune.

A negro, having won a dollar at a crap game, decided to spend it on having his fortune told. The fortune teller led him into a gloomy room with dirty hangings and misty red lights. She took his palm, traced it with a dollar, spread out her cards and then said:

"You are very fond of music; you like chicken; you have won money at craps, and you have been in jail."

The negro looked at her with bulging eyes and finally ejaculated:

"Mah goodness, lady—why, yo' jest read mah inmost thoughts!"—Exchange.

Two Storied.

Elmer aged six, accompanied his father to the circus one afternoon. Among the many strange and bewildering things he saw was one man standing on the shoulders of another.

"Look, papa!" he exclaimed. "There's a two story man!"—Chicago News.

To Make Sure.

Mrs. Younglove—If I wasn't afraid baby was sick I do believe I should spank him. Younglove—Well, let's make sure. You begin spanking, and I'll go for the doctor.—Puck.

Mated.

"What do you think? Mayme's affinity is a shoemaker!"

"The very man to be a sole mate."—Baltimore American.

The first test of a truly great man is his humility.—Ruskin.
